Think, Talk, Make

On December 7th, 2018, Made Thought held their first ever 'To Think' workshop on 'Impact and Creative Opportunity'. Seeking to explore and understand how they can together create a thinking culture in which we evolve with the world, it brought together a small group of people to talk over lunch.

This is a record of our first discussion, and a guidebook of best practice for workshops at Made Thought in the future. The result is a 10-page program, 5 question cards, and 1 poster to summarize the workshop.
